Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Game Bulletin No; 1: 1913 The large game animals of California constitute one of the most important groups of game in this State. That some of these animals are rapidly approaching extinction is a fact which needs no proof. The older sportsmen, and hunters in general, testify to the great decrease in the number of deer, elk, mountain sheep, and antelope that has taken place in California during the past three or four decades. In consequence of the importance of this game, and in view of the fact of the materially lessened numbers, the Fish and Game Commission has undertaken a special study of the subject, with the hope of establishing a more efficient system of conservation, one that not only will prevent the extermination of these animals, but will result in an increase of the present numbers, so that the large game animals may become a permanent source of wealth for the people of the State. Until recent years, the work of conserving the large game supply of the State was a matter regulated by a more or less arbitrary set of game laws, enforced by a corps of field deputies of the Fish and Game Commission. This system of conservation, though partially efficient, lacks the scientific considerations which are the essential basis of all successful conservation work. Our large game has decreased to the point where radical measures must be taken in order to preserve it as a factor of economic importance. The investigation that has recently been instituted aims to solve the question of large game conservation, by putting the system on a sound scientific and thoroughly practical basis. This movement was...
